

Iranian Rial – Resumption of Exchange Rate Publication

Banca d'Italia informs that, with effect from October 2, 2026, it will resume the publication of the exchange rate of the Iranian rial, the currency of the Islamic Republic of Iran. Publication had been suspended due to the inability to obtain the “telegraphic transfer” exchange rate from the website of the Central Bank of Iran, as notified in the Notice published on June 26, 2025.

For the purposes of resuming publication, and due to the continuing restrictions on access to the website of the Central Bank of Iran, the daily “telegraphic transfer” exchange rate of the Iranian rial against the US dollar will be collected on a monthly basis by the Italian Embassy in Tehran and subsequently communicated to Banca d'Italia.

Each month, Banca d'Italia will publish the daily exchange rates of the Iranian rial against the US dollar and against the euro, the latter being calculated in accordance with the methodology available on its website, with reference to the preceding month.
