

Workshop on “Labour mobility and migration: determinants and consequences”

Banca d'Italia, Centro Congressi “Carlo Azeglio Ciampi”, via Nazionale 190, Roma

October 4, 2019

9:00-9:15	Welcome address, Paolo Sestito (Bank of Italy Structural Economic Analysis Directorate, Head)
9:15-10:00	“Commuting, Migration and Local Joblessness”, Michael Amior (Hebrew University of Jerusalem)
10:00 -10:45	“Commuting, Labor, and Housing Market Effects of Mass Transportation: Welfare and Identification”, Christopher Severen (FED Philadelphia)
10:45-11:15	Coffee break
11:15-12:00	“Trainspotting: Board Appointments in Private Firms”, Audinga Baltrunaite (Bank of Italy)
12:00-12:45	“The spatial equilibrium with migration costs”, Gabriel Ahlfeldt (LSE)
12:45-13:45	Lunch
13:45-14:30	“Labor Market Competition and the Assimilation of Immigrants”, Albrecht Glitz (UPF)
14:30-15:15	“Understanding Migration Aversion Using Elicited Counterfactual Choice Probabilities”, Tyler Ransom (The University of Oklahoma)
15:15-15:35	Coffee break
15:35-16:20	“Immigration and Spatial Equilibrium: the Role of Expenditures in the Country of Origin”, Joan Monras (UPF)
16:20-17:20	Keynote: Esteban Rossi-Hansberg (Princeton University)

Organizers

Gaetano Basso (Bank of Italy; gaetano.basso@bancaditalia.it)

Emanuele Ciani (Bank of Italy; emanuele.ciani@bancaditalia.it)