The moderate recovery in €coin continued in September

- In September the €coin indicator recorded a new, slight increase, to 0.34 from 0.32 in August, returning to the level reported in March.
- The effects deriving from the recent improvement in the stock markets, after the high volatility seen in the preceding months, offset the fall in industrial production and the persisting weakness in price dynamics.
- The €coin indicator developed by the Bank of Italy provides a summary index of the current economic situation in the euro area. The indicator is an estimate of quarterly GDP growth shorn of the most erratic components (seasonal variations, measurement errors and short-run volatility). €coin is published monthly by the Bank of Italy and CEPR.
- Next €coin release dates: Thursday 3 November and Wednesday 30 November (preliminary).

€coin and euro-area GDP – September 2016

Sources: Bank of Italy and Eurostat.

€coin collates data from a large set of macroeconomic time series (industrial production indices, business surveys, demand indicators, stock market indices and more). It extracts the information that is relevant to tracking underlying GDP trends for the entire area.

The €coin estimate is timely, leading Eurostat's official release of the area-wide GDP growth figure by several months. And it provides a reasonably close anticipation of the quarterly growth rate net of the more volatile components. The estimate of underlying growth trends by €coin has two key advantages:

- (i) monthly frequency, with release several months ahead of the official euro-area GDP estimate;
- (ii) immunity to the short-term fluctuations and measurement errors that mark quarterly output growth; that is, the index figure is an indicator of the euro area's actual growth momentum.

The following table shows the performance of the €coin indicator over the last year:

Month	€COIN
September 2015	0.39
October 2015	0.36
November 2015	0.37
December 2015	0.45

March 2016	0.34

July 2016	0.31
