€-coin increases again in March

- In March €-coin rose to 1.36 (from 0.96 in February).
- Manufacturing firms' confidence has continued to recover and there is less pessimism in the service sector. Industrial production continues to drive the economy, partly thanks to world trade making a good recovery.
- The €-coin indicator developed by the Bank of Italy provides a summary index of the current economic situation in the euro area. The indicator is an estimate of quarterly GDP growth shorn of the most erratic components (seasonal variations, measurement errors and short-run volatility). €-coin is published monthly by the Bank of Italy and CEPR.
- Next €-coin release dates: Wednesday, 5 May and Tuesday 1 June (provisional).

€-coin and euro-area GDP – March 2021

Source: Bank of Italy and Eurostat.

Note: The €-coin series is based on the real time estimates of the indicator at a given date and hence the series is not revised. On the other hand, the GDP growth rates are calculated on the basis of Eurostat's most recently published series and do reflect any changes in the historical data.

€-coin is constructed monthly by exploiting a vast set of macroeconomic time series (e.g. industrial production indices, business and households surveys, demand indicators, and stock market indices) in order to extract the data needed to estimate the underlying trend of euro-area GDP growth.

€-coin precedes by several months the official euro-area GDP figure released by Eurostat and gives an early indication of the trend net of any erratic or short-term components.

The following table shows the performance of the €-coin indicator over the last year:

Month	€-COIN
March 2020	0.13
April 2020	-0.34
May 2020	-0.24
June 2020	-1.05
July 2020	-1.22
August 2020	-1.59
September 2020	-1.45
October 2020	0.11
November 2020	0.11
December 2020	0.38
January 2021	0.99
February 2021	0.96
March 2021	1.36
