(1) There may be discrepancies due to rounding or to variations in the exchange rate between the currency in which loans are denominated and the euro. – (2) Updated to 13 May 2015. – (3) Takes into account the restitution to the EFSF in February 2015 of its own bonds issued and previously transferred to the Hellenic Financial Stability Fund but not used (€10.9 billion). Until the programme is completed, Greece can use these resources for interventions in support of the banking system at the request of the ECB or the Single Supervisory Mechanism.

(1) Consumer price index for worker and employee households, excluding tobacco products. – (2) As of January 1999 Istat changes the weights every year on the basis of estimates of households' final consumption in the previous year. The weights shown in the table are those for January 2014. – (3) Until 2010, the sub-indices are based on the 204-product classification. Includes medicines, for which the reference is to the aggregate calculated by Istat; around one third of this consists of products in the so-called C band, the prices of which are unregulated.

(1) Rounding may cause discrepancies. The data for last year are provisional. – (2) The rates of increase calculated net of dividends on shareholdings in other banks, if included in the aggregate, are shown in brackets. – (3) Comprises wages and salaries, costs in respect of severance pay, social security contributions and sundry bonuses paid to banking staff; also includes the extraordinary costs incurred in connection with early severance incentive schemes. The number of banking staff is obtained by deducting tax collection staff and staff seconded to other entities from the total number of employees and adding employees of other entities on secondment to banks. – (4) A negative value indicates a tax credit. – (5) Profit includes the net income of foreign branches. Capital and reserves includes share capital, reserves and the balance of surpluses and losses from previous years. In line with the definition used in ESCB harmonized statistics it also includes provisions for losses on loans and overdraft facilities. – (6) Deflated using the general consumer price index (2010=100). – (7) Excludes the extraordinary costs incurred in connection with early severance incentives, directors' fees and expenses for pensioned staff. – (8) Data for the entire banking system, including banks that have not reported information on their profit and loss accounts. – (9) End-of-period data.
